The Legend

Swinging the backside of an axe at his left hand to drive steel "S" irons into logs never seemed like a great idea to Jim Higgins. After dislocating his index finger on his left hand, he pulled it back into place, packed it in ice, and the idea for LogSavers was born.

Higgins, a professional logger, designed the original LogSaver to be safer and easier to use. By using special plastic, he prevented all the problems caused by metal parts in logs. Designing the LogSaver to clip into the face of the hammer kept his hands out of the striking zone.

LogSavers were quickly accepted by numerous logging operations and Higgins teamed up with U-C Coatings, the leading company in preventing degrade from end cheking, to sell and distribute his new invention. Customer feedback led to the development of the FlitchSaver and added another safe and practical product that protects and enhances the value of logs and lumber.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

LogSavers and FlitchSavers are made to be used with the LogSaver and FlitchSaver Hammers. Simply clip into the face of the hammer and rotate into any position to accommodate the split or crack in your log. Swing the hammer at the end of the log to insert. If the 'saver' does not enter the log completely, the backside of the hammer head can be used to tap it completely into place.
